

A Level German

Why study German?

With 83 million inhabitants, Germany is the most populous country in the European Union, as well as a key player in European politics. German is an important language for business and trade, as well as giving access to the rich culture and history of this fascinating country.

The course is taught four times a week by two modern foreign language specialists, and there is also a weekly lesson with the German assistant.

Exam Board:
AQA

Overview of course content

A Level (specification code: 7662)

Examination	% of total qualification
Paper 1 - Listening, reading and writing Exam duration: 2 hours 30 minutes (100 marks)	50%
Paper 2 - Writing on a film and the text 'Metamorphosis' Exam duration: 2 hours (80 marks)	20%
Paper 3 - Speaking Exam duration: (oral exam) 21-23 minutes (60 marks)	30%

Within this course, you will study the following topics:

- The Role of the Family
- The Digital World
- Youth Culture
- Art and Architecture
- Customs and Festivals
- Cultural Life in Berlin
- Immigration and Racism
- Germany and the European Union
- Politics and Youth
- German Reunification and its Consequences

Additional Reading

'Wort für Wort' - New Advanced German Vocabulary by Paul Stocker

Careers/Future Opportunities

An A Level in German would be an excellent stepping stone to a career using languages, as well as aspects of business, commerce and law. A number of universities offer language enrichment as part of their degree programmes.

If you have any questions, please contact:
office@kennetschool.co.uk