

A Level Law

Why study Law?

Whether you're interested in a career in law or looking to gain some useful skills that can be used in a variety of careers, this is the course for you! Through studying core principles of the law, legal practice and legal skills, you will be investigating the rules that govern our personal, social, economic and political relationships, how these are applied and the disciplines necessary to do this.

Exam Board:

OCR

Overview of course content

A Level (specification code: H418)

Examination	% of A Level
Paper 1: The Legal System and Criminal Law Exam duration: 2 hours (80 marks)	33.3%
Paper 2: Law Making and The Law of Tort Exam duration: 2 hours (80 marks)	33.3%
Paper 3: The Nature of Law and Contract Law Exam duration: 2 hours (80 marks)	33.3%

A Level Law comprises of six topic areas:

The Legal System

This topic focuses on civil and criminal courts, the legal professions and access to justice

Criminal Law

Discover the rules and general elements of criminal law and liability

Law Making

Investigate law making in England and Wales as well as the European Union

Law of Tort

Learn about negligence, liability and remedies

Nature of Law

Explore how law interacts with morality, justice and society

Contract Law

Learn about the rules of contract, including how contracts are made, enforced and what remedies are available.

Careers/Future Opportunities

Not only will this course build on your skills to make informed decisions, but will also open the door to continue the study of law at university, as well as entry into a wide range of careers, including medicine; business; education; journalism; government; communications; public relations; management; social service and many more. However, A Level Law is not just for those who want to enter the legal profession, it is a well respected subject and links well with social science subjects, economics and business, to name just a few.

If you have any questions, please contact:
office@kennetschool.co.uk